

Google Ads

Case study

Overview

This campaign tested Google Display Ads for a Hollywood-themed game using a minimal budget. The campaign achieved exceptional CTR (9.73%) and highly cost-efficient traffic (₹0.58 CPC), demonstrating strong audience-creative fit. However, lack of conversion tracking limited full performance evaluation.

Strategy

Targeted movie enthusiasts (18–45) using affinity audiences. Focused on curiosity-driven creatives to maximize clicks and identify high-performing audience segments within a limited budget.

Key Insights

- CTR significantly above industry benchmark (1–3%) indicating strong engagement.
- Hollywood audience segment delivered highest performance.
- Low CPC highlights efficient targeting and creative alignment

Critical Limitation

No conversion tracking implemented, preventing measurement of actual engagement or game interactions. This limits understanding of true campaign success beyond traffic.

Recommendation

- Implement conversion tracking (game starts, session duration)
- Retarget users who clicked but didn't engage
- Optimize landing page for faster interaction
- A/B test creatives and messaging
